HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Riot in San Francisco.

The fiercest riot San Francisco has witnessed in a generation was a sequel Sunday evening to a meeting of socialists held at Woodward's Pavilion as an expression of sympathy for President Moyer and Secretary Haywood, of the Western Federation of Miners, who are imprisoned in Idaho on the accusation that they were implicated in the assassination of former Governor Steuenberg.

At the meeting violent speeches were made, in which it was declared that Moyer and Haywood were innocent, and that if convicted they would not be hanged unless the entire United States army was brought in to assist in their execution. At the conclusion of the speechmaking a procession was organized and the participants in the assemblage marched down Market street, headed by a band. At the corner of Kearney and Market streets a halt was made and one of the paraders who carried a red banner climbed Lotta's fountain and affixed the emblem to the topmost lamps. The banner bore the inscription "The Constitution be damned; so say the corporations."

It was decided by the leaders to hold an outdoor meeting and A. C. McGinty was selected to address the crowd. So great was the throng, however, that he could not make himself heard, and Geo. S. Holmes, a metal worker, with a powerful voice, was substituted as speaker. He was in the midst of his talk when Policemen Jack Stelzner and W. H. Cavanaugh and Detective Ryan made their way through the crowd. Ryan tore down the red flag and passed it to Stelzner. Ryan then ordered Holmes to desist, but was met with a refusal and the detective pulled Holmes down to the pavement.

In a moment a riot was precipitated. Stelzner was knocked down and kicked in a vicious hand-to hand fight, the crowd seeking to recover the flag. Ryan and Cavanaugh came to his assistance, and began beating the crowd with clubs. The flag was torn from Stelzner's grasp, and then Ryan, who had held Holmes all of the time, started to take his prisoner through the crowd, beating a path with his club. An electric car was passing, and halted opportunely for the detective. He boarded it and the other officers tried to keep the crowd back. Near the fountain a new building is being erected, and the street was full of building debris.

Almost instantly there was a shower of scrapiron, brick and blocks of wood upon the car, and the missiles crashed through the windows, injuring a number of passengers. The motorman was made a target, but he slowly forced his car through the human blockade, and, gaining speed, ultimately reached the Hall of Justice.

In the meantime alarm calls had been sent to neighboring police stations, and patrolmen came hurrying to the scene. They found themselves confronted by a maddened crowd armed with sticks and stones, and for half an hour a lively battle was in progress, the police using their clubs with telling effect and the crowd retaliating viciously.

Policeman Stelzner was struck several times by flying bricks and was cut in the neck and head. Policeman Doran was also bruised and cut. Policeman Harry Seguine was seriously hurt. He was knocked down and kicked again and again. Seventeen of the rioters were arrested, three being charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The rest were booked at the prison for misdemeanors. Holmes, the orator, was charged with disturbing the peace. It was fully an hour from the time the trouble started that quiet was restored in the neighborhood.

The Eruption of Vesuvius.

Yesterday was a day of terror for the cities, towns and country about Vesuvius. Unconfirmed reports put the number of dead and injured at several hundred, but not many facts can be obtained upon which to base an accurate estimate.

At midnight the situation seemed more assuring, the lava streams having diminished in volume and in some directions have stopped altogether, while a copious rainfall is cooling the lava where it lies stationary.

Almost equally with the devastation wrought by the lava is the damage done by cinders and ashes, which in incredible quantities have been carried great distances. This has caused the practical destruction of San Guiseppe, a place of 6,000 inhabitants. All but 200 of the people have fled from San Guiseppe, and these 200 assembled in a church to attend mass.

While the priest was performing his sacred office the roof fell in and about 60 persons were badly injured. These unfortunates were for hours without surgical or medical assistance.

The only thing left standing in the church was a statue of St. Anne, the preservation of which the poor, homeless people accepted as a miracle and promise of deliverance from their peril.

At Ottajano 5 churches and 10 houses fell under the weight of ashes and cinders, which lie four feet deep on the ground. In the fall of the buildings about 12 persons were killed and many were injured. The village is deserted. After the evacuation of the place the barracks and prisions fill in.

Reports from coast and inland towns depict terrible devastation.

At many places the people are suffering from panic, and a state of great confusion exists, which has been added to by superstition. Some of the parish priests refused to open their churches to people who tried to obtain admittance, fearing that an earthquake would destroy them while full of people, and thus increase the disaster. Crowds of women attacked the churches, pulled down the doors and took possession of the pictures and statues of the saints, which they carried about as a protection against death.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands whom it has cured? It is applied directly to the affected air-passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 10, 1906.

THE TERRIBLE disaster which has occurred in the southern section of Italy is at present attracting the attention of the civilized world. It is a repetition of a calamity from the same cause which buried up two cities in the early part of the Christian era. Terrible as was the destruction which befell Pompeii and Herculaneam, the loss of life on that occasion, from all accounts, was by no means as large as that caused by lava during the past few days. In the case of the ancient cities there is reason to believe that but few of the inhabitants perished, as they had sufficient warning to flee to points of safety. Times have changed since the days of the Cæsars. It then took months to circulate news throughout the habitable world, and many died without knowing that there had been such a convulsion of nature. In fact the destruction of the cities referred to seems to have been lost sight of for many centuries when Pompeii and Herculaneun were discovered by an accident. Different conditions exist now, and the news of the activity of Vesuvius and the disasters that have followed are flashed around the globe within a few hours' time.

REPRESENTATIVE PEARRE introduced in the House yesterday a bill providing that the railroads of this country engaged in interstate commerce shall hereafter select the telegraph operators who work their block towers from a list of eligibles to be furnished them by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which shall, from time to time, hold examinations to test the physical, mental and technical fitness of applicants to become block operators. All applicants passing an examination of at least 75 per cent. shall be placed on the eligible list and railroads, when needing new operators, must make their selections from the list furnished them by the commission. This is a movement in the right direction and one that should have been made long ago, as it is evident that in this way the railroads will be supplied with a corps of operators whose qualifications for their important posts are unquestioned, and that the safety of travel in this country will be vastly increased. Countless accidents have been the result of incompetent operators, and the danger of travel will be greatly lessened if this bill becomes a law. It is said that the operators themselves desire the passage of the bill.

MRS. DOWIE says her husband, the "prophet" has not been responsible for his actions for two years, in which charitable opinion the junior Dowie concurs, and she adds that she will meet her husband and take care of him if he will allow her. But Dowie would prefer to be taken care of by the seven "young and comely" maidens whom he is reputed to have selected for his domestic establishment in Mexico, where polygamy is not so strictly restrained. "Princess Pearl," "Scent of the Lilies," "Perfume of Violets" and "Light of Heaven" are his terms of endearment for other women than Mrs. Dowie.

INFORMATION has been received at the Italian Embassy in Washington that anarchists from Italy are coming to America in large numbers. American officials have been notified of the influx and steps should be taken to scrutinize the record of suspicious persons who have come to these shores lately. Investigations show that Baltimore has been made the center of these foreigners. The uprising Sunday in San Francisco is taken to indicate that the anarchists throughout the country are becoming bolder.

A DISPATCH from Pittsburg, Pa., says: "The Congressmen from Allegheny county are all promised opposition for re-election. Even John Dalzell is against the hard fight this time, about the only hard one he has ever experienced." It is hoped that he may be retired. Now that Mr. Grosvenor has been defeated, Mr. Dalzell will be out of place in the House.

THE LATEST scandal in the navy comes from San Francisco where it is published that dutiable goods valued at $750,000 have been smuggled ashore from the battleship Oregon and sent broadcast over the country. And the smuggling was done by men sworn to uphold the laws of their country!

THE CALL to make the Democratic Club in New York city national in its effect contains the phrase "to stem the rising tide of socialism." The whole appeal will be based on that text and it is such a strong one that it should be responded to by democrats throughout the country.

THE closeness of the referendum election in Chicago shows that "immediate municipal ownership" is not so "immediate" as it was a year ago. The New York Tribune says that it also indicates that "socialism skin deep" is not quite so popular in the western city.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, April 10.

To show that the reference to the Germans being a beer drinking people is not all a myth, Consul Brittain, of Kehl, has gathered some valuable statistics. He finds that each inhabitant consumes annually 129½ quarts of beer; 6½ quarts of wine and 9 quarts of brandy. The per capita cost per annum is $11.20 including children and women. The average for male citizens over fifteen years is $37.36. For a population of sixty millions, the liquor expenditure figures out at 672 million dollars. At the same time Germany expends 99 million dollars on her public schools, 208 million dollars for her army and navy, and 104 million dollars for working people's insurance. All these great public enterprises cost the German nation less than two-thirds of its alcoholic drink bill.

The statistical board of the Agricultural Department reports that the average condition of winter wheat on April 1 was 89.1 against 91.6 per cent. on April 1, 1905.

"Nine tenths of the foreign ships purchased by this government for use in the war with Spain were absolutely rotten and worthless," declared E. S. Cramp, the Philadelphia shipbuilder, to the House committee on merchant marine today, where he appeared as an advocate of the ship subsidy bill. The Merrimac, sunk by Hobson in Santiago harbor, he said, cost the government $325,000. Her value, including $70,000 worth of repairs, was only $140,000.

Senator Alger, of Michigan, about whose recent illness grave reports have been circulated, entered the Senate chamber today during the debate on the rate bill. Congratulations were extended by many Senators.

It was stated this morning that Senator Alger, or Michigan, who has been ill, has so far recovered that he would today resume his duties in the Senate.

The weather today was an improvement on that of yesterday and in consequence the attendance at the Bennings races was large.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, April 10.

SENATE.

A battle between coustitutional giants was precipitated in the Senate this afternoon, when Mr. Bailey, the minority leader, essayed the task of defending against the assaults of Senators Spooner, Knox, Foraker and others his contention that Congress could limit the jurisdiction and judicial power of the inferior federal courts

He declared that under this right Congress should enact a railway rate regulation law that would prohibit the setting aside by the courts of the decision of the commission, pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

He expressed surprise that such learned lawyers as Mr. Spooner and Mr. Knox should in the Senate forum place themselves on record against such a clearly defined principle of law and declared that if they were correct it would be necessary to rewrite every law on the statute books. He said the proposition for which he contended had been written in the judicial act of 1793, and that it had come down intact to section 720 of the revised statutes.

It was an unusual audience that heard the stirring debate. Almost every Senator was in his seat, when Mr. Bailey took the floor. The public and private galleries were crowded

Mr. Tillman called up the rate bill immediately upon the conclusion of the routine business.

Mr. Bailey, in taking the floor, said that when he had first asserted that Congress possesses the power to prevent the inferior federal courts suspending by a preliminary injunction the rate fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, most of those who challenged that assertion drew a distinction between the powers of Congress over the federal courts in equity and in law proceedings. He said he could never see that any sanctity vested in the equity courts, and he congratulated himself upon the fact that these scoffing Senators had at last unconditionally abandoned there shallow and unfounded distinction.

Further he exclaimed: "Such argument finds no sanction anywhere except in the speeches of the two Senators, yet, it finds conclusive and abundant refutation in the decisions of the courts everywhere." He said he would not charge Mr. Spooner with being uncandid in the citation of authorities but he thought the manner of their presentation "was calculated to mislead all those not familiar with the facts." As he spoke the Senator looked toward Mr. Spooner. "The Senator from Wisconsin smiles," he exclaimed. "It is well that he should smile now, for he will not when I have got through with him."

HOUSE.

About a score of members witnessed the beginning of the House proceedings at 11 o'clock this morning, an hour before the regular time of meeting. Speaker Cannon, was represented in the chair by Mr. Dalzell. The early meeting was held in order to expedite the postoffice appropriation bill, which was immediately taken up in the committee of the whole.

Mr. Johnson (South Carolina) made a speech in opposition to the railroad mail subsidy provisions contained in the bill.

Mr. Randell (Texas) spoke on his bill prohibiting members of Congress or judges from accepting transportation or anything of value from railroads, steamship companies or express companies. He said the bill had been "strangled" in the judiciary committee.

Tennessee Courtesy.

An incident showing the kindly feeling and spirit exhibited by the Knights of Columbus, and the J. O. A. M., on Thursday, is worth noticing.

At the flag raising at St. Mary's Parochial school in the morning, the Knights of Columbus displayed a beautiful silk American flag.

At the completion of the ceremonies the Junior Order of American Mechanics, which was represented by a large number from that order, asked the loan of this flag for the use at their flag raising at the high school in the afternoon, which request was kindly granted and the same flag headed the procession of the Junior Ordermen at their ceremonies.—[Knoxville, Tenn., "Journal and Tribune."

Col. Robert Christy, one of the best known of the old citizens of Washington, lies at the point of death in his apartments in the Carrollton Flats. He is known internationally as the greatest of authorities on proverbs.

John Alexander Dowie's train, four hours late, yesterday crossed a blazing bridge in safety, Dowie ascribing it to the will of God that he reach Zion City early. He declares he will never live with his wife again. He declares that Mrs. Dowie, spurred on by Voliva, is the cause of the trouble, and that money and jealousy are at the bottom of it all.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night in the Auditorium Hotel by the Hamilton Club in Chicago, in celebration of the forty-first anniversary of Appomattox Day. The banqueters were greatly disappointed because Mrs. Longworth was not present at the dinner. Mr. Longworth made a speech in defense of American politics and talked about the the rate bill. He also assailed those who impugn the motives of public men.

Senator Daniel contributed another chapter to the "trust" literature of congressional debate, when he had put into the Record yesterday a letter from R. S. Waddell, president of the Peoria, Ill., powder factory, in reply to a letter from G. M. Peters, president of the King Powder Company, which denied that the latter concern was in the "trust." Mr. Waddell gave numerous instances of powder deals, which he alleged proved the existence of a "trust."

"I am tired of living. You will find my body in the barn. Good-by." Shortly after penning this note and handing it to a negro to be delivered to his cousin, Lambert Jarboe, near Clinton, Prince Georges county, Md., yesterday slashed his throat with a razor, causing death within an hour. William E Mudd, to whom the note was addressed, rushed to the barn and found Jarboe unconscious. The coroner declared it unnecessary to hold an inquest and issued a certificate of suicide.

M. P. Conference.

A lively discussion was precipitated at the session of the Methodist Protestant Conference yesterday at West Baltimore Church, when the committee on fraternal relations recommended the loan of Rev. Frank H. Lewis to First Church, in Pittsburg, for another year. For more than an hour the matter was before the conference, and it was clearly to be seen that Rev. Mr. Lewis was determined to return to Pittsburg, and if the debate had not ended by recommitting the recommendation to the committee with instructions to report this morning, he would in all probability have withdrawn from the Maryland Conference and made an independent congregation of First Church.

There was still another debate, which sprung up during the closing hour yesterday afternoon over an item in the report on missions, requesting the home mission board to sell the old church property in Seattle, Wash., for $80,000, which sum has been offered for the lot. The discussion was not concluded.

During the morning President Little received into the Conference Revs. C. M. Elderdice, W. L. Hoffman, R. S. Litsinger, J. D. Smith, L. B. Smith, John A. Kittle, W. S. Hanks and A. C. Boyd. Dr. Little delivered an excellent address to the new members, and warned them of worldliness.

The foreign mission steward reported collections for the year amounting to $9,883, an increase of $1,165 over last year.

Tortured by Burglars.

Five burglars who broke into the isolated home of Henry B. Plumb, an aged attorney and historian of Nanticoke, Pa., yesterday morning, tortured Plumb by fire and severely injured him, and frightened and shocked his wife into a serious condition in an effort to make them reveal the hiding place of money they were supposed to possess. A search of the house resulted in the burglars finding $85 and a gold watch. Telling Plumb that he could not fool them, they ordered him to reveal the place where his money was hidden, threatening him with death if he did not. He protested they had obtained all. Expecting to make him speak by torture, the burglars bound him to a chair and held a lamp flame to his feet. His shrieks were stifled by the bed clothes. Time and again the thieves stopped to ask him to reveal the hiding place, burning the soles of both feet and part way up his legs, not and leaving the house until he swooned. They told Mrs. Plumb, who, helplessly, had been compelled to endure the sight of her husband's sufferings, that they would send a physician, but they did not. Two hours later Plumb recovered, manage to loose his bonds, freed his wife, and then gave the alarm, but no trace of the burglars has yet been found. Plum is in a serious condition.

Fate of Important Measures.

Governor Warfield, of Maryland, yesterday acted on a number of important measures. Most important of these was the signing of the anti-cut-off bill, which prevents the Pennsylvania Railroad from building its freight cut-off from Baltimore along the route it had selected and compels it to go out beyond Owings Mills and Timonium. This the company says it will not do.

The girdle electric bill was vetoed. It was said to be full of snakes, and Governor Warfield said it was hasty legislation.

The two-cents-a-mile railroad bill was killed on the ground that it would work a hardship on the smaller roads.

The appropriation of $150,000 for the expenses of the next legislature was vetoed on the ground of economy, all the actually necessary expenses of the session being already provided for.

The free-passes-for-officials bill was another that went to the slaughter.

Mrs William E. Demory died on Saturday at her home, near Evergreen Mills, Loudoun county. She was 50 years of age.

The ordinance recently adopted by the Petersburg council closing barrooms from 11:05 at night until 5 in the morning was defeated in the board of aldermen yesterday evening by a vote of 7 to 3.

As the result of the appearance of spinal meningitis, or spotted fever, in the Pinners Point and Port Norfolk sections, the Pinners Point public school was yesterday closed when only one out of 110 pupils appeared.

Fire at Lacy Springs, in Rockingham county, Sunday night destroyed a barn on the farm of J. M. Glass. Nine head of cattle were roasted to death and a large quantity of farming implements was destroyed.

In spite of his confirmation by the Senate on Friday last as postmaster at Front Royal, opponents of Rev. Hamilton W. Kinzer, who has held office for 12 years, have filed serious charges against him in the Postmaster General's office at Washington.

Rush Adams Robinson, aged 36 years, only son of Dr. S. A. Robinson, a wealthy retired physician of New York city, died Sunday at Cove Lawn, near Covesville, Albemarle county, a beautiful country home, which the doctor had purchased one year ago for his son, who had contracted tuberculosis.

Col. Clement R. Fontaine died at his home, in Wythe county, yesterday, aged 75 years. He was a native of Buckingham county, this state, and was a graduate of the University of Virginia. He entered the Confederate army as a private and rose to the rank of colonel of the Fifty-seventh Regiment, General Armistead's Brigade, Pickett's Division.

The strike among the Richmond millworkers came to an end yesterday, when the employers agreed to treat with the men individually, but not as a union, and the union agreed to allow the men to use their own discretion as to whether they would return to work. The owners agreed to a nine-hour day. An increase of 5 per cent. was agreed to by some of the mill-owners.

There is a strong probability that the Southern Railway will extend its line from Rocky Mount to Roanoke, a distance of 30 miles. The Southern reaches Rocky Mount from Franklin Junction, and that line has never been a paying one, but under the charter the Southern is compelled to operate it. Roanoke capitalists interested say the Southern will enter Roanoke at no distant date.

The master plumbers of Norfolk yesterday notified their journeymen that they had formed a union, and the journeymen union must hereafter deal with their union and not with individuals or firms. They also announced that they will run "open shops" hereafter. The journeymen asked for an advance in the wage of first-class men from $3 50 to $4.50 a day, the masters to reply to this on May 1. They replied yesterday informally that they would not grant any advance, and in the event of a strike will import workmen from other States

Thrust at the Commissioners.

Notwithstanding that yesterday was District day in the House and that body resolved itself into a common council for the purpose of making laws for the District of Columbia, general interest was shown in the bills requiring non-resident pupils to pay tuition and regulating the employment of child labor.

Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, replying to a long speech of Mr. Sims, of Tennessee, in which he advocated self-government for the people of the District of Columbia, made a defense of the form of government, but criticised its administration. He did not think two newspaper men and one army officer, who constituted the board of commissioners, the proper personnel for such a government. While he admired the oratorical powers of the newspaper men on the board, he thought it would be better for them to improve the city streets than to make speeches.

Three Girls Accuse Him.

On three charges of criminal assault, the complainants being three schoolgirls, all under 16 years of age, Anthony Zoller was arrigned in Police Court in Washington yesterday, and entered a plea of not guilty. He demanded a jury trial and was held in $1,5 0 bonds for his appearance Thursday morning. The schoolgirls testified that they had been enticed into a house on K street northwest, which was occupied by Zoller, and had kept up their visits for months, being compelled to do so by threats which they allege were made by the defendant. It is stated that one of the girls finally told her mother of the affair, and the latter notified the police,

KILLED BY VESUVIUS.

Hundreds of Persons Destroyed by Eruption—Appalling Destruction of Property.

Naples, April 10.—Forty nine corpses have already been found in the village of San Giuseppe. Five of the bodies were discovered in the ruins of the church which collapsed under the strain of the heaps of ashes which fell from Vesuvius. Sixty injured persons were found in the streets of Ottajano in addition to 200 corpses which have been found. Great numbers of people are missing from all the villages in the neighborhood of Vesuvius.

From the Mediterannean to the Adriatic the whole southern portion of Italy is enveloped in darkness, and ashes are continually falling from the black sky. Mount Vesuvius is surrounded by black vapors of smoke, is emitting ashes and blocks of white hot stones which are buried upwards and then go crashing down the sides. Great trees have been uprooted and burned and vineyards have been devastated. The people are fleeing from the scourge, powerless and helpless, all their energy being gone. Only the soldiers are working unremittingly saving the people and their furniture, and usefully striving to arrest the progress of the lava.

Signor Matteuci, the director of the Observatory, unheeding the danger, remains the sole watchman of the eruption, noting every change and ready to signal the slightest sign of a decrease in the flow of the lava, which appears unlikely for some time.

The churches, barracks, and schools of Naples have been converted into shelters for the refugees, harboring at present about 50,000. A hurricane swept over Naples during the night.

King Victor Emmanuel and the Queen are now going around the coast in a yacht, landing at villages and personally distributing money to the sufferers.

Pope Pius X. has telegraphed $10,000 to Cardinal Prisco at Naples, which he is personally distributing among the needy.

Naples, April 10.—At the busiest hour of the day, while the place was crowded with people, the roof of the general market known as the Monteoliveo market collapsed, burying the entire throng of stall-keepers and purchasers in the debris.

Some of the people were able to make their way out of the building without much difficulty, but at least 200 were caught in such a way as to make the work of rescue extremely difficult. Up to the present time, twelve corpses and sixty-five badly injured perrons have been taken from the ruins.

The collapse of the roof was due to weight of the ashes and cinders from Mount Vesuvius which had accumulated during the present eruption.

Immediately following the accident the market and the surrounding streets became an inferno. Great crowds of people collected, and becoming frenzied at the thought that friends or relatives were buried in the ruins, fought to try to rescue the victims of the accident. The screams of the injured ones, buried beneath the collapsed roof, added to the horror and increased the fury of the would-be rescuers. The corpses that have been taken from the ruins are badly mutilated and in some cases are almost beyond recognition.

All but 200 villagers had fled when showers of rocks and ashes began falling on the little town. The people rushed to the village church and while crowded into the structure, the roof gave way under the weight of ashes

In all forty-nine have been found in the village and it is believed that others who escaped from the church injured have probably since died from their wounds.

Two hundred corpses have been found in Ottajano and the immediate vicinity, and sixty injured persons were picked up in the streets of the villages. Large numbers of the villagers are missing.

Somma Vesuvius has also suffered severely. The village was made up for the most part of low, flat-roofed houses. These were unable to bear the weight of ashes that sifted down on them steadily and many collapsed. It is feared that many people lost their lives in the ruins of their homes.

The soldiers who are patrolling the whole threatened district continually are finding bodies of persons who evidently were struck down in their flight, having sunk exhausted, or being overcome by the poisonous fumes that filled the air. In some instances death was caused by falling rocks.

Fully 500,000 persons have been driven from their homes and in the frenzied rush of this great crowd to places of safety, it would be too much to expect that this completes the number of casualties.

The number of fatalities reported in the last few hours has increased alarmingly. Over 500 deaths are known to have occurred as the result of the eruption, and when the full story is written, if it ever is, this number is likely to be much larger. Great numbers of persons from all the villages threatened by the volcano are missing and it is impossible in the confusion which reigns throughout the country to try to account for them. Many persons have also been injured, and as it is almost impossible to supply medical assistance, numbers of these will undoubtedly be added to the death list.

The village of San Guiseppe, normally of 6,000 inhabitants, lying below Ottajano, reports the heaviest loss of life so far.

The rescuers have succeeded in reaching more victims of the disaster and 200 injured persons have been sent to hospitals. Most of the victims are stall-keepers, as the visitors and purchasers nearly all had time to escape. Gangs of policemen and firemen are engaged in searching the ruins. The Duke of Acsta, who has been engaged for some time in assisting the victims of the eruption, is personally superintending the rescue work at the market. It has been impossible to recognize the corpses taken from the wrecked building because they are so terribly mutilated.

A part of the market was being used as a refuge for many of the refugees from the eruption districts, and many of them were among the injured and killed. The refugees were crowded into the section of the building which had been set aside for their use, and after the horrors they had already suffered they became wildly excited when the roof crashed in. The wild stampede to escape from the building was responsible for the greater number of casualties. Although many were caught by the falling timbers and injured in this way.

Later this morning the violence of the eruption diminished somewhat, and as a consequence the fall of ashes and cinders slackened. The lava streams are advancing slowly.

A further search of the collapsed church at San Guiseppe resulted in the discovery of more bodies, bringing the total up to nearly 200. The ruined houses have also been searched and resulted in the discovery of forty corpses. Most of these victims were old people who apparently had not the strength to flee.

Seventy persons have been taken to hospitals in the town of Nolaj. The streets there in places are filled to a depth of fourteen feet with the debris from the volcano.

Dowie in Chicago.

Chicago, April 10.—Weary and worn from his long railway journey, John Alexander Dowie, deposed prophet of Zion, arrived in Chicago at 8:45 o'clock this morning over the Wabash railway. Probably three thousand persons jammed themselves into the Polk street depot, a swaying, struggling, curious mass of humanity, who fought strenuously with an extra police force for places of vantage to witness the debarkation. Cheers, yells and cat-calls went up continuously. "Come on out, John Alexander; we want to see you," was the burden of the invitation from the crowd. The prophet made some effort to dodge the situation, for he walked up the train to the smoker seeking for a means of dropping off the train, where the crowd was the thinest. He failed to find a "thin" place, and eventually climbed down on to the platform surrounded by a body of his intimates who fought to keep back the pressing people. His weakened condition was apparent. Supported by two men of giant stature, Dowie finally made his way to a carriage into which he was bundled quickly, the horses were whipped and with four cabs the cavalcade started ostensibly for the Chicago and Northwestern depot The mob, or, at least, a majority of it, failed to get even a glimpse of the former leader of Zion. Those who had not seen Dowie for several months were struck by the emaciated condition of the man. If the spirit is willing, the flesh certainly is weak. John Alexander Dowie does not look like a man with enough physical energy to enter a serious battle.

Dowie announced that he would not proceed to Zion City today, but that he would carry the case directly to the courts for adjudication. "I think it is time for me to announce now that I shall not go to Zion City today," he said, "I shall not leave Chicago until I have arraigned matters from a legal standpoint. I have no desire to squabble in the streets of Zion for the possession of my property, even if those who have usurped my power do. I am a law-abiding citizen, I believe in law, and I want the law to take its course. Voliva and his followers have wrongfully possessed themselves of my property." In explaining his attack on his wife and his threat to send Voliva to the penitentiary, Dowie declared that he felt the time had come for him to say the disgraceful thing, as he feared assassination. He said his life had been threatened many times. He feared that if he remained silent longer, he might be dead before he could bring the unprintable charges against his wife and son. He said that the charge of insanity against him was a part of the plot to deprive him of his possession of Zion.

Miners and Operators.

New York, April 10.—The reply of the anthracite operators to John Mitchell's proposal of arbitration of the hard coal differences will be made this afternoon, when the operators and miners meet for their joint conference in the Jersey Central building. There was a preliminary meeting of operators in the offices of the Temple Coal and Iron Company, for the purpose of coming to some agreement on the form of the counter proposal to be made to the miners.

The attitude of John Mitchell and the sub-scale committee toward the counter proposition of the operators no matter in what form it may be presented is problematical, and the miners' president will doubtless ask for an adjournment of two or three days in which the full scale committee may be called together and the counter proposition considered.

Mr. Mitchell hopes to be able to issue the call for the convention by the latter part of the week. The convention will probably be held at Wilkes-Barre the middle of next week.

New York, April 10.—The operators and miners who are conducting the negotiations looking to the avoidance of a strike in the anthracite region met again today at 1.30 p. m. It is known that the operators have prepared a counter proposition to the offer of arbitration made by the miners. This counter-proposal, it is officially stated, is to throw the whole dispute into the hands of the anthracite strike commission, which adjudicated the differences of employers and employers in 1902 It is understood that the operators also want whatever decision is reached to stand for three years from April 1st, 1906, and not for two years, as stated in the miners proposal.

The conference was in session but a brief period, adjournment coming at 2:10 p. m. Announcement was then made that the conferrees would meet again Thursday at 1:30 p. m. to discuss the reply of the miners to the counter proposition of the operators. This counter proposition of the operators was made public. Its text in effect is as outlined above, except that in asking that the questions be referred to the Anthracite Strike Commission, it asks that the commission ascertain if any new questions have come up since the former award.

The Assessment Cases.

Community of Interest Investigation.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, April 10. One of the most sweeping inquiries ever undertaken by a government commission was begun here today in the federal court rooms by the Interatate Commerce Commission. It is an investigation of the alleged community of interest between interstate common carriers and the coal and oil business of the country. The commission's authority for the inquiry is found in the Tillman-Gillespie joint resolution adopted by Congress last month. Months will elapse before the investigation will have covered even in a cursory manner the field contemplated in the scope of the resolution. Further, the commission is to investigate as to the alleged discrimination between shippers in distributing cars and furnishing facilities for receiving and forwarding coal and oil.

The hearing in Philadelphia today was devoted to this latter feature of the investigation, particularly as to the western Pennsylvania bituminous field penetrated by the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. The ownership of the coal lands in the western part of the State was touched on, but the questions of the Commission were directed chiefly at the system employed in distributing cars among the mines.

Committed to the Tombs.

New York, April 10.—Lewis Tewkesbury, the wildest mining promoter and plunger, who jumped his bail in Philadelphia and surrendered to the authorities here yesterday, and is charged by his former wife with the larceny of ten $1,000 United States bonds, was arraigned this morning before Recorder Goff, and committed to the Tombs in default of $7,500 bail. Counsel for Tewkesbury pleaded not guilty to the charges with the privilege to withdraw this by Thursday night. Tewkesbury's lawyer said that his client gave the bonds to his wife, but never surrendered to her the title to them.

Collapse of a Building.

Pittsburg, April 10.—Three floors of a five story brick building, No. 622 Liberty avenue, which was being torn down, collapsed at 10:30 o'clock today. A number of workmen were carried down by the crumbling walls. The crash caused intense excitement in the busy wholesale and commission house district, and alarming reports of casualties were quickly circulated. One Italian laborer was killed and three other Italian laborers sustained injuries that incapacitated them from working.

Killed Divorced Wife

Birmingham, Ala., April 10.—As a result of jealousy, Dr. W. B. Burton, a well known physician here, today shot and killed his divorced wife, fatally wounded T. T. Thaxton, a dentist, and cut his own throat, dying shortly afterwards. The condition of Thaxton is critical. Mrs. Burton was also a doctor of medicine, and the tragedy occurred at her home where she was attending a sick daughter The divorce had been granted but one month ago. All the parties concerned are prominent here.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 10.—While returning from an entertainment at Elizabeth last night John Buchy, aged 22 years, of Jones Station, and Miss Margaret Allshouse, aged 17 years, of West Elizabeth, were run down and instantly killed by a train on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston Railway, near Clairton. Buchy was escorting her home and both were walking on the tracks of the railroad. Buchy was badly mangled.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair tonight and Wednesday; light west to northwest winds.

The Fishing Season.

One third of the month of April has passed away and the receipts of fresh fish are still meagre, although there is a perceptible increase in the catch. Some herring were cut at Fishtown yesterday. The receipts, however, came from points near the mouth of the river and had previously been carried to Washington. Tugboats were sent down the river this morning to intercept vessels on their way up. Prices today were as follows: Shad $15a20 per hundred for buck, and $35a40 for roe. Herring $4a5 per thousand Shad were retailing in market this morning all the way from 20 to 60 cents each. Fine white perch and black bass were on the benches. The latter were selling at 12½ cents per pound.

Several shad have been caught by gillers during the past few days a short distance below Alexandria, but so far they can be counted upon one's fingers. Spring weather has at times prevailed during the past week or ten days with southerly winds, and last night there was thunder and lightning, all of which are said to be harbingers of shoals of shad and herring in transitu.

The Weather.

The rainy weather of yesterday was followed early last night by heavy down pours accompanied by some vivid lightning. Between nine and ten o'clock stars began to glisten in the west, and clearing conditions followed. The heavy rains and easterly winds caused an exceedingly high tide in the river this morning. The water rose over some of the wharves and submerged certain places on the Strand and half way the square on King street, between the ferry slip and Union street.

The weather today has been variable—at times fair, but soon changing into threatening conditions with light rain. The temperature has been spring-like.

The rains of yesterday and last night caused no material damage to the railroads leading to this city, and trains have arrived and departed as usual.

It is thought the spring run has commenced, and next week the catch will be large. The fish are still very high.—[Fredericksburg Star.

The steamer St. Johns, which will run upon the Potomac as an excursion boat this season, will leave Jersey City for this city Wednesday afternoon and is expected to reach here early Saturday morning.

Personal.

Rev. J. P. Stump, who had most acceptably filled the position of pastor of the M. E Church South in this city, left today for his new station, Luray, much to the regret of his many friends in Alexandria. Bulla, who is to take Mr. Stump's position, will arrive from Winchester on Wednesday. On Thursday night he will be given a cordial reception by the members of the congregation of the M E Church South.

Death of Former Resident.

Mr Charles H Whittington, a native of Alexandria, but who had lived at Manassas during the past thirty-five years, died at that place last Friday night. His funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church, and the interment was in the Confederate Cemetery. Mr. Whittington for many years was in the service of the Southern Railway Company in this city and as station agent at Manassas and at Remington and he was regarded as a most efficient employee. Whilst yet in his youth he entered the Confederate service and was assigned to the signal corps as telegrapher in the field and served to the end of the war.

Charged with Bigamy.

Jeannetta Gray, colored, this morning appeared at the station house and asked for the arrest of Charles Jackson, whom she charged with bigamy. She said the man was in Washington and Officer Young proceeded to that city in quest of Jackson. With Officer Plant of that city he soon located Jackson in a restaurant at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Four-and-a-half street and arrested him and brought him back to this city The case will come up tomorrow.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my husband, CHARLES SCHREINER, who departed this life April 10, 1905—one year ago today.

He has gone from his loved ones,
His children, his wife;
Whom he willingly toiled for
And loved as his life.

Oh God! how mysterious
And how strange are Thy ways
To take from us this loved one
In the best of his days.

An Easter Picture.

An Easter picture that fits the occasion is one of the timely feature provided for the delection of buyers of the Sunday North American, of Philadelphia, for April 15. Nearly all of the articles and pictures in the paper for Easter Sunday breathe the Easter spirit, but the one that will appeal most strongly is a handsome lithogravure of a little girl surrounded by rabbits—the child's Easter animal.

To give to the artist a full and perfect expression of his work, the printers have done the picture in ten printings, getting into the comopsition every shading of color than can be produced by mechanical means. The result is a delicate, finished reproduction, even more attractive than the wonderfully faithful original.

Nothing More Delicious

than that WHITE CLOVER HONEY we are offering you. It is the clearest and best ever sold on this market and would bring fancy prices elsewhere. We have a few pounds left and are going to sacrifice it right here at home at 15c a pound section. Order quick.

It's a genuine pleasure to see how many of those FAT PRUNES we send out in a day. Price still the same—4 pounds for a quarter.

Josh Billings said, "If you have to go out before breakfast, eat your breakfast first." If he were here today he would add "At least drink a strong cup of Yates's Bourbon Coffee." It's the right thing in the right place and invigorates the system like no other Coffee.

Alleged Smuggling.

The San Francisco Evening Post published a story yesterday to the effect that dutiable goods valued at about $750,000 were smuggled ashore in launches from the battleship Oregon just before she departed for the Bremerton navy yard. It says that an order has been issued instructing the inspectors at Bremerton to detain every man of the battleship until the whole matter has been sifted to the bottom, and the customs authorities throughout the country have been notified to find and examine the questionable packages if possible.

The battleship was scheduled to get away for Bremerton on Saturday morning, but was delayed on account of not having received sailing orders.

"At noon, however," says the Post, "a telegram was received from the War Department stating that officers and men must have their baggage in readiness for inspection by the customs officials when the Oregon reaches Bremerton. This notice was posted in the messroom, and the news flashed over the ship like lightning. It was then, according to those who watched the whole scene, that the goods were hurried ashore."

The Post then says the record of the Wells-Fargo Company shows that they gave receipts on 2,890 packages taken from the Oregon. The Santa Fe Railway gave shipping bills for 1,600 trunks and cases, many of which weighed several hundred pounds.

Acting Inspector of Customs Hamilton, when asked regarding the matter, said that the statement regarding the alleged smuggling had been conveyed to the customs officials, who had at once proceeded to verify the report, sending out the orders referred to and making an investigation but as yet nothing definite has been established.

Mysterious Death.

The body of Calvin Young, a married man and one of the most progressive merchants of Grayson county, was found Sunday within 200 yards of his residence, near Rugby, with a pistol shot through his brain. The pistol was lying beside the body.

On March 12 Young mysteriously disappeared after telling his wife that he would remain at the store for the night. The next morning the store was broken open and the floor was found bespattered with blood. A search was instituted and resulted in nothing save the finding of a few chickens with their throats cut. Great excitement prevailed, and a wagon track which passed through Rugby was followed for 12 miles, resulting in the arrest of a North Carolinian named Scott. He was afterward released and allowed to go to his home.

It was reported that at the disappearance of the merchant was due to the fact that a young woman had left the town prior to his mysterious absence and that was the cause of the mystery, but after results changed that theory entirely. Two weeks ago his grip, with a change of linen and other valuables, was found in his barn. This, with a report by a neighbor that he met him with his full beard shaved off, which changed his appearance entirely, is regarded as suspicious.

Young was wealthy, owning a large cattle farm, and was one of the most prosperous merchants in southwest Virginia. He was rearing a splendid family, being surrounded by a loving wife and several sons and daughters. He was 46 years of age and his mysterious disappearance was no less a shock to the community than the finding of his dead body in a clump of trees on his farm Sunday.

Denies that He was Kissed.

Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of the Western Maryland College, at the Methodist Protestant Protestant Conference, at Baltimore yesterday morning emphatically denied that Rev. Francis T. Little, president of the conference, had been kissed by a number of young women after the services in a church Sunday morning. The statement had been made in a morning newspaper, to which Mr. Lewis called the attention of the conference.

After condemning the article in an address, he introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three to visit the editor of the newspaper in which the article appeared "to protest against the liberty which the paper took in publishing such a scandalous article." The article was condemned in strong terms by a number of the ministers and the resolution was unanimously carried. The committee appointed consisted of Dr. Joshua W. Hering, Messrs. William B. Usilton and Daniel Baker.

Rev. Dr. Little, in speaking of the article, said:

"There is not a word of truth in it. I never kissed a woman in the aisles of the church in my life. A young woman did kiss Dr. Greenfield at the close of the sermon service yesterday morning, and that was probably the foundation for it. I was standing near, but I was not kissed. Publish this as my statement. There is absolutely no truth in the article."

A Young Mother of 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
